DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1, 3-4, 7-11, 16, 25, 27, 28, 30-31, 34-38, 42, and 48-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

More specifically, claims 1, 3-4, 7-11, 25, 27, 28, 30-31, 34-38, and 49-50 are vague and indefinite because the limitation drawn to "a source of fluxing oxide" creates ambiguity in the instant claim. It is not clear what is meant by this language. It embraces outside power/energy sources as well as the natural components of some silicates. It also is not clear as to what constitutes a "fluxing oxide".

Claims 16 and 42 are indefinite due to improper Markush language. The suggested language is "selected from the group consisting of."

4. Claim 48 provides for the use of a fire resistant product, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claim 48 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

8. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

9. Claims 1-4, 6-31, 33-47, and 49-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Romenesko et al., 6,433,049 B1 (Romenesko).

Romenesko discloses and fire resistant composition that can be used as cable and wire insulation, said composition essentially as claimed by applicants in the present claims and comprising a polyolefin, a silicone polymer, and particulate silicate mineral filler which, per claims 1, 16-17, 19, 21, 25, 28, 42-43, and 45-46. See entire document, and for example, abstract. In addition, Romenesko discloses that optional additives such as silica, metal hydroxides, glasses, carbonates can be included, as required by claims 7-11, 20, 34-38, 44 and 49-50. See column 8. Also, Romenesko discloses that each component is present in amounts within the instant claimed ranges as required by present claims 2-4, 18, 22-23, and 25-31. Note column 4, lines 10-20. Regarding the various properties of claims 1, 6, 12-15, 24, 27-28, 33, 39-41, and 45, the composition of the prior art is the same as or substantially similar that set forth by applicants. It is the examiner's position that the same composition necessarily has the same properties, or alternatively, the properties of the prior art composition and cable are substantially similar to those of the instant invention, so as to render obvious the present claimed invention, in the absence of factual evidence to the contrary. Applicants are invited to provide such evidence.

Therefore, the teachings of Romenesko anticipates or in the alternative, would have rendered obvious the invention as claimed in present claims 1-4, 6-31, 33-47, and 49-50.

No claims are allowed.
